Expert Report Writing

David. J. Icove, Ph.D., P.E.
Icove and Associates
Knoxville, Tennessee

Dr. David J. Icove is an internationally recognized forensic fire engineering expert with over 40 years of experience as a career law enforcement investigator on the federal, state, and local levels. A co-author of several leading textbooks in the fire investigation field, including Kirk's Fire Investigation, Combating Arson-for-Profit, and Forensic Fire Scene Reconstruction, he has served as a principal member of the NFPA 921 Technical Committee on Fire Investigations since 1992.

He holds BS and MS degrees in Electrical Engineering and a PhD in Engineering Science and Mechanics from The University of Tennessee, and a BS degree in Fire Protection Engineering from the University of Maryland-College Park. He is presently as Research Professor in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville; an Adjunct Faculty member at the Department of Fire Protection Engineering, University of Maryland; a Registered Professional Engineer; and a Certified Fire and Explosion Investigator.

Documentation of the Fire Scene

Gerald Haynes, P.E., CFEI
Fire Protection Engineer
Forensic Fire Analysis, LLC

Gerald Haynes is a registered Professional Engineer with more than 35 years experience in the field of Fire Protection. He holds both Bachelor of Science and Masters of Science degrees in Fire Protection Engineering from the University of Maryland. He is currently the Vice President and Senior Fire Protection Engineer of Forensic Fire Analysis, LLC and serves as an adjunct lecturer for the Office of Advanced Engineering Education at the University of Maryland. He is also co-author of the third edition of Forensic Fire Scene Reconstruction with Dr. David Icove and Dr. John DeHaan.

Mr. Haynes' experience includes work at the National Institute of Standards and Technology Building, and Fire Research Laboratory and the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives. His experience is multi-dimensional, including municipal fire service, fire and explosion investigations, complex case analysis and engineering support, and military service. He has provided testimony as an expert witness in state and federal courts in cases related to fire cause and fire testing protocols. He has conducted numerous presentations in the U.S. and internationally in the areas of fire dynamics, fire modeling and forensic fire engineering analysis. He currently is a member of numerous professional organizations, including the Society of Fire Protection Engineers (SFPE), the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), the IAAI, NAFI and the Institute of Forensic Investigation (IFI).
